

1. SESAME STREET PLAYHOUSE -- MATTEL

It's Sesame Street in the backyard. All the fun and imagination of Sesame Street is here. A playhouse with things to slide on, and wriggle through, and pretend to talk on, and play with. The outdoors is even more fun when Sesame Street is part of it. Now, there's a lot of SESAME STREET for everyone's backyard. It's fun. Each sold separately...from MATTEL.

2. Tampa General

Do you know the difference between a child & a grown up? Tampa General does! That's why they opened a new children's emergency center... there kids can be examined with equipment that is made for small people.

3. PSA Ad Council Drink and drive

My older brother had everything going for him. I always looked up to him. He just had a way with people. But last Saturday night, Tom left us ... forever. And all because of a drink he should never have had. You see, in high school, the other kids think it's cool to drink and drive. We know better. DON'T DRINK AND DRIVE. It changes everything.

4. PURINA ONE BRAND

We got a dog...for the kids. Okay, so I became attached. Soooo my friend calls it obsessive. I just wanted a perfect food for my dog. Talked to the vet...talked to the breeders...read books...Okay, two words: Go shopping! That's when I found Purina One Brand Lamb & Rice Formula. First ingredient...Lamb. I think we found our dog food. Me...Obsessive?...I don't think so. Purina One. Second to none.

5. Cat Thinking – Comedic – Kids – M/F

Cat Monologue – A housecat's inner thoughts. 2-3 minute comedic monologue, good kids.

INT: A PATCH OF SUN ON THE ARMREST OF A COMFY COUCH

MILO THE CAT is lounging in the sunshine, taking a very contented nap. His owner walks in and he raises his head sleepily.

MILO

Don't look at me like that. I can always tell when you humans are having a bad day. Like it's my fault for sleeping. Do I give you a hard time for only sleeping eight hours? Or for sleeping when you should be feeding me? No. So leave me alone.

(The owner walks over and pets Milo)

Well, I guess if you're going to pet me...

(Nuzzles the hand of the owner, who then pets him near the tail. His whole backside automatically lifts)

Noooooo—not the butt! Curse you, human, I was in such a comfortable pos—ooh, that does feel nice, though. All right, that's good. Getting bored now. Okay. Okay. Okay, that's enough.

(Bites the hand and then slinks off)

Man, it's like you don't know what you're doing. Petting is not about you, sir, you hairless pink popsicle. Now bring me food! Hey! Food, I tell you! Not that dry garbage, bring me something wet that makes the whole house smell like tuna!

(Follows his master toward the kitchen, baffled when he doesn't get his way)

I cannot fathom the inane stupidity of humanity. It's like they don't understand basic commands. Did I say to go get ice cream to stuff in your fat face? No. It's like when I meow and you meow back at me—I'm trying to speak to you in a language you understand, not get you to try and repeat it! I've seen your kind do the same nonsense babbling repetition with babies. Maybe you don't understand how communication works. If you did, maybe you'd get that I want to be petted on the head but not picked up or touched on the belly. It's not like it's that hard to remember.

Morons. I'm surrounded by morons. Sometimes it's almost like you think you're in charge or something.

6. Verizon

Can we talk for just a minute? It's a little embarrassing to talk about but I have a little problem. Well actually it is a big problem. You see I have this huge growth on my ear that I can't get rid of. It's a cell phone. It is always there. Every time you see me you will see it sticking straight out of my ear. The problem is that with the growth came an even bigger bill. That's why I switched my service to Verizon. Now I have a growth I can afford.

7. TJ Max

I had to go to TJ Maxx. My boyfriend and I just broke up and I needed a little pick me up. So...I found this outfit. Perfect fit, perfect color...he HATES orange.

Besides, it was a great deal...over half off. And if I didn't get it, someone else would have gotten it because it was the only one left! The thought of some stranger walking around in my clothes kind of weirds me out. Plus, I hadn't done laundry in a month. So I literally had to buy it. And it was orange, my signature color. Thanks TJ Maxx!
